Techniques for clearing

When saying the "Rescind, revoke..." string... allow yourself to play with repeating parts that want to be repeated, or even adding other elements.

Agreements can be tangly and unravel in chunks... as you are saying it, track the shifts in energy, if things seem to shift then stop before a big lightness arrives, keep rattling off pieces of it until you sense a shift.

Explore with different tempos, pitches and speeds. It's amazing how it can take things that won't release and just "pop" them!

Play! -Jaden

Using this list...

These words are some of the options that I've come across over my years of clearing with others. This is an area of play for me, this is not a "definitive list" or even valuable... just an exploration.

A way you might explore with this list is to just connect to the energy of each word and see if it brings up anything for you. Then clear it.

Over time I've learned to just intuitively jump to the words that are most relevant or at times I'll just say, "and all those other things too"... that covers it ☺

Any time you feel like other words want to be added, just add them, your being knows!
